

UBC Guest and New Member Rowing Rules

Guest Rowing

- ↖ UBC Members who host a non-member/guest on a row ("Host") must acquaint the guest with UBC boat use and logging procedures.
- ↖ Hosts are responsible for the conduct of their guests, including damage to clubhouse or equipment.
- ↖ A Host must escort his/her guest in and out of the Boathouse, including when offering guests the use of his/her private equipment. No keys should be given to non-members.
- ↖ Hosts should log guest miles as "Guest" in logbook.
- ↖ HOST NOTE: Guests may row up to 50 total miles per year in club equipment. After that, the Guest must be a Proposed Member in order to row additional miles. Those miles should be logged separately as "PM" in the logbook. (See Admission Guidelines.)
- ↖ Guest miles in private equipment are unlimited. The UBC Host member lending the equipment must accompany the Guest.
- ↖ Host members lending private equipment may not row club boats of the same size in lieu of their own.
- ↖ Host-guest crews must be composed of 50% UBC members.
- ↖ Host-guest crews should be bowed by the UBC member, unless excepted by the Club Coxswain.
- ↖ The Executive Committee has the discretion to make special provisions re: dues, equipment use, etc. for out-of-town oarsmen who are resident in Philadelphia for a temporary duration and who are not Guests or candidates for Active Membership.

New Member Rowing

- ↖ New member are responsible to know UBC boat use and logging procedures. The appearance of a "★" next to a log entry generally indicates a breach of those procedures. Please note related comments by Club Coxswain.
- ↖ New members who are novice rowers may not bring rowing Guests until they have rowed at least 500 miles in Class 3 or 4 equipment (gigs), have achieved a Class 2 skill level of sculling a single shell competently (as determined by Club Coxswain).
- ↖ New members who are experienced rowers must first have logged 250 miles out of UBC or been an actively rowing member for at least one year before bringing rowing Guests.
